Summary: (machine translated) Watery and short rappel canyon below a reservoir
Hydrology:
Approach: (machine translated) From the parking lot on the road in a southeasterly direction - along the small reservoir - to the dam with company house, passing it on the left and then in a right turn down to the channel. Access directly at the horizontally shooting out water jet with a 7 m jump possible.
Tour: (machine translated) At the very beginning there is a 22 m slide. Immediately after left exit possibility. According to Nizzola, "the descent into hell" begins here. The difficulty arises from the fact that after the rappel into the narrows in the water spray, a handrail must be set up and the following 30 m rappel in the lower area leads into a chute (with full water pressure), from which one should keep out as much as possible (pendulum straddle).\nDespite its short length, the Ticinetto is one of the most attractive canyons of the Ticino, both from a sporting and scenic point of view. Water drainage with a small reservoir above the entry. Before and after(!)the tour, therefore, contact the power plant operator (SES): Tel. 0041(0)917569301\nWith regard to the amount of water also note the overflow from the reservoir! (in this respect, Nizzola is wrong when he refers only to the pool after the sheet pile wall).
Return: (machine translated) At the water diversion, exit to the right over the iron ladder, then cross the stream to the left and, starting under the large downspout, walk up the footpath to the entry.

Today this one was on the schedule, Unfortunately at the entrance there is a sign specifically forbidding canyoning. (machine translated)
