Summary: (machine translated) Short and not unattractive canyon - 'gravel' with narrows - with some possible jumps, also suitable for beginners. Conveniently located to 'take' him on the drive past to the Pyrenees.
Hydrology:
Access: (machine translated) From the Rhone Valley freeway A-7 (Route de Soleil) take the Valence (Sud) exit onto the N-7 in the direction of Livron, Loriol (southbound).\n\nAfter about 7 km, the N-7 makes a bend and then temporarily turns east. At the beginning of this bend, turn right and head west across the Rhone to Charmes-sur-Rhone (3.5 km).\n\nIn the middle of this village, turn onto the D-232, which continues west to St. Georges les Bains (3 km). In this village, the road widens and then makes a right turn. Immediately after this, turn left down into the valley to a bridge over the Turzon. Park a car here. (In April 2003 the road was interrupted after the first hairpin bend - just before the bend good place to park the car).\n\n\nwith the other car from St Georges les Bains about 2 km further on the D 232 slightly uphill to a prominent right bend, where there is a larger place to park the car on the left (south).
Approach: (machine translated) From the car south down to the Turzon.
Tour: (machine translated) Varied descent with jumping possibilities and a turbo slide.
Return: (machine translated) About halfway at a bridge - There on the right side warm spring in set basin - exit possible to the left on a little road up to the D-232. Below the bridge only the C 15 (jumps) interesting.\n\nAfter the 15 m waterfall run out to the bridge, where the 2nd vehicle is parked.\n

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Turzon Petit canyon tres sympa. Peut etre que se garer au niveau du virage au depart du canyon serait plus judicieux qu'au village pour eviter les problèmes de nudité lorsqu'on se change. Sinon ras sur l'équipement.
