Summary: (machine translated) Varied forest canyon
Hydrology:
Access: (machine translated) From Nice on the N 202 in the direction of Digne; after 28 km and just after a long tunnel, turn off the N 2202 onto the D 2205 and up the Tinée valley. After 18 km and 7.5 km after Pont-de-Cians, turn right and go up 6 km to the village of Marie, where you park.
Approach: (machine translated) Continue on the road that becomes a dirt road. In the first left serpentine, a path goes off to the right that goes up and behind the Vallon d'Ullion. One passes the crest of Serre Blanc (920 m a.s.l.). About 200 m further, a path branches off to the right that takes us down to the stream in about 10 min.
Tour: (machine translated) The panoramic approach alone makes the tour worthwhile. The Vallon d'Ullion is not only a natural forest canyon. The tufa formations overflowing with water are interesting. \nFor slides and jumps, the pools regularly lack the necessary water depth.
Return: (machine translated) About 800 m after the last (17 m) rappel, get off at the stone bridge and go right (north) up to Marie, past the St Roche chapel.
