Summary: (machine translated)

Alpine 2 day canyon

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)

From Ponte Leccia to Asco. Opposite mouth Loganiello place car for the exit. Transfer to Castiglione (see Google map under "Photo Gallery")

Approach: (machine translated)

From Castiglione to the Cima à i Mori. Beyond down to the spring Vetta à i Mori and the homonymous Bergerie. Bivouac here. The next day, follow the stream downhill until the entry presents itself.

Tour: (machine translated)

First in the Ruisseau di Vetta di Muro downhill (about 7-8 rappel), then continue in the Ruisseau de Logoniello flowing in from the left (at about 1100m). A little later the last higher rappel (C26). There follow 4-6 smaller steps, the last of which can be bypassed. At altitude 940m begins a phase of descending and walking (about 90 min.).

Return: (machine translated)

We exit on a path to the left and reach on it a Bergerie on the right slope. Then we go down to the Rivière l'Asco, on a footbridge to the other bank and up to the road where our car is parked.
