| Summary: (machine translated) rappel canyon, narrow, partly technical, dry | | |
| Hydrology: | | |
| Access: (machine translated) We leave the AP-7 (Autopista de la Mediterrania) on the way from Tarragona towards Valencia about 23 km after crossing the Ebro river at exit 43 - Vinaros. However, after leaving the highway, we turn left and head north on the CV-102/T-332 to Ulldescon. For further approach see: http://www.wikiloc.com/wikiloc/view.do?id=7922340 We park our car at a water trough. | | |
| Approach: (machine translated) From here we follow a path that crosses the streambed and goes up the ridge on the other side. We just have to follow the red markings. We cross a rock bar and come to a wide hollow. In this hollow we walk down without any path until we reach the narrowing (entry). Cf.: http://www.barranquismo.net/paginas/barrancos/canal_de_la_selleta_del_pinel_mapa.gif | | |
| Tour: (machine translated) One rappel "chases the next", beautiful views, at the end very narrow and technically somewhat more demanding. | | |
| Return: (machine translated) At the bottom we follow the path down through bushes and coppice to the streambed of the Barranc de la Vall. In this descend to the car. | | |
