Hydrology:
Access: (machine translated) Coming from Bilbao on the freeway, we continue past Santander in the direction of Gijon / Oviedo. At Cabezón the freeway currently ends and it continues on the N-634 via San Vicente to Unguera. Here you turn onto the N-621 in the direction of Potes. Passing Oanes, one follows the Rio Deva upstream. About 2-3 km after Hermida - the Rio Deva is now on your right - the Navedo comes down from the left (east), shortly after the marker 'km 161'. Here you look for a suitable parking place at the road, which is very busy especially in vacations and weekends.
Approach: (machine translated) From the road, the trail leads up the orographic left bank. This opens up good views of the not very deep canyon. After about 20 min. a 'bridge' leads over the creek. Here is the entry
Tour: (machine translated) At most rappelling points there are alternative rappelling stands, so that 'overtaking' is possible. There are some smaller toboggans, you should avoid jumps (own painful experience at the first rappelling point!). Continuous exit possibility to the left onto the ascent path.
Return: (machine translated) About 50 m before reaching the road bridge, turn left on the ascent path; from there in a few minutes to N-621.
Coordinates: Canyon Start 43.2499 -4.5810 Canyon End 43.2454 -4.5849
