Sharp edge at highest rappel point; gneiss rock; beautiful canyon but partly very slippery and shady; catchment area 6.1km²; rappel often in the water course.

Access: (machine translated)

approx. 2h

Rif --> A10 ri. Villach --> Mölltal --> Obervellach (between Obervellach and Stallhofen) ri. Winklern --> at the federal road turn right to the camping site (Fort Vancouver) --> under the federal road --> over the bridge and to the left to the camping site --> park here.

Approach: (machine translated)

approx. 40min

From the campground (Fort Vancouver) left to the large trail sign --> here the path up to Polinikfall --> after about 500m at the bridge left steeply up to the trail --> always visual contact of the deep canyon --> continue to an old path --> keep right to the entry at about 1120Hm.

Tour: (machine translated)

ca. 2,5-3h

The canyon offers from beginning to end a very versatile program of rappel --> belays are in good condition --> many short rappels in the water --> mostly slippery even at the belay --> little sunlight --> with a lot of water problematic at the narrows (check the water level at the exit on high of the wooden bridge) --> the highest rappel point comes almost at the end and is usually outside the water flow (!!! sharp edge) --> to be able to master the short rappel more effectively, an additional shorter rope should not be dispensed with.

Return: (machine translated)

approx. 15min

After the last big rappel and the 2 small rappels go left out of the canyon on a hiking trail then (right) again through the creek and past the wooden bridge until you meet the access path back to the campground/ parking lot.
