Résumé: (traduction alternative) hiking canyon
Hydrologie:
Accès: (traduction alternative) From Schwaz in the Inn valley to Vomp and in the village near the church north towards Vomperberg. At the following junctions always keep left in the direction of Gasthaus Karwendelrast. Park here.
Approche: (traduction alternative) From the Karwendelrast inn (860 m above sea level) on a forest road for about 1500 m in a westerly direction until a path (No. 224) branches off to the left to the "Hallangerhaus". Soon you come to the Haag Bründl (Stub Bach). Pass it on the left and continue westwards on the only slightly ascending path above Vomper Loch. After about 45 minutes you cross the Kühsoachgraben (see video). It goes past the game feeding area above the Melans-Alm (1020 m above sea level). About two hours from Karwendelrast, the hunters path turns northward into the Zwerchloch, passes the hunting lodge and crosses the stream. Then it leads upwards on the west side via the so-called Katzenleiter. Later it goes almost all the way down to Vomper Bach and there on a wooden footbridge over the Ödkarbach. Here you can descend to the right above the mouth of the waterfall of the Ödkarbach into the Vomper Bach, especially if you want to avoid the possibly unpleasant entry slide. The alternative leads further in serpentine steeply up in the forest and immediately below the Triefende Wand down again into the wide gravel bed, under which the Vomper Bach - invisible until the entry - flows along (1060 m above sea level).
Tour: (traduction alternative) Due to its abundant water flow, the Vomper Bach is best (and especially insofar safe) to walk in autumn or/and after long dry periods. In case of doubt, skip the uppermost (narrow) part and enter at the Ödkarbach (see above). The first part, however, is the most interesting. The canyon is something for lovers of combined tours with special scenic appeal. In Oct. 2006 was under the slide at the beginning about 1.30 m deep water without large stones. If necessary, one could let the first down here by means of ropes to test the situation (for this take 20m rope - but no anchor available - 2006). Exit possibilities after about a third of the canyon at the footbridge left up to the approach path, after about another third left up to the Melansalm (difficult to find). Last exit (left) 100 m after the Kühsoachgraben pathless through the beech forest up to the Anmarschweg. After a good half of the gorge hike, the water is completely diverted, but after a few hundred meters the streambed fills again with the amount that we were used to before the diversion.
