| Accès: (traduction alternative)Follow the SS13 through the Canal Valley until Dogna, here turn off into the Dogna Valley. Follow the road until you cross the Rio Mas (old bridge remains and tunnel). About 500m after the bridge you can park at a yellow hiking trail sign.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                           |                                             |
| Approche: (traduction alternative)Follow the partially slipped path 640 for about 100m to Torrente Dogna. Wade the stream (the bridge was washed away in 2007) and climb the other bank with many hairpin bends to just below a ruined house. In the penultimate hairpin bend before the ruins, a path leaves to the left and is followed. This is the abandoned path 651 that you follow until the streambed of the Rio Rondolon (last short root climbing). In the streambed climb briefly until you see a higher waterfall, here leave the streambed to the left to reach a path running above (markings).Follow the path to the bottom of the valley where it runs above the low gorges of the Rio Rondolon. Climb along the canyon until you see a rock wall further up, here keep left and cross briefly until you are in front of a dry streambed. Either ascend in the dry streambed (easy but slippery climbing passages) or keep to the right up the steep forest slope until you reach flatter terrain.Mainly pathless, keep slightly left up to an inconspicuous saddle and descend on the other side very steeply through two gravel gullies (last ancient wire rope) into the streambed of the Rio Rondolon. |                                           |                                             |
