| Accesso: (traduzione alternativa)At Ospitale di Cadore, get off the SS51 and then follow the old road upstream. Turn right down a short sand road and park the car on the gravel bank of the Piave.   |  |  |
| Avvicinamento: (traduzione alternativa)Wade through the Piave and hike briefly downstream to the mouth of Val Costamolin. On the orographic right side of the gorge exit on a well-marked path up the first mountain slope, then continue to follow the markings until they lead downhill to the right. Here keep left and climb up, the path is no longer marked and difficult to see in the high grass. Go up above a drop-off, then follow the path, which is more visible here, until it flattens out in the area of the ruined Casera Costamolin Bassa. Here do not follow the path marked in the tabacomap uphill, but stay on an overgrown but clearly visible path at 900m (freshly cut, cairns). After a short steep ascent into a forest saddle, the path leads in a falling traverse into the streambed of Val Costamolin.Steig in OSM largely correctly registered. |  |  |
| Giro: (traduzione alternativa)18 rappelling points up to 25m. The waterfalls are mostly washed out nice and smooth, and often have a water fountain built in. In the upper part, a 20min long descending section clouds the fun a bit. After 2/3 of the canyon there is a short artificial tunnel (here entry/exit to the right). In the lowest third the gorge becomes very narrow and steep, waterfalls and diving pools alternate.   |  |  |
| Ritorno: (traduzione alternativa)Crossing the Piave river and back to the car   |  |  |

Approach very steep and difficult to find. A lot of burrs necessary, hooks only sparse and available in the most necessary places. (traduzione alternativa)
